Use Free FINOS Member Code: email events@finos.org for your code

Date: May 14–15, 2025 Location: Convene, 360 Madison Avenue, New York, NY

FINOS is excited to partner with apidays NYC 2025, a premier global conference exploring the intersection of API strategy, AI innovation, and digital services. As a benefit of membership, FINOS Members receive complimentary full access to both days of apidays NYC (May 14 & 15) – a value of $990 per ticket!

apidays NYC brings together a unique audience of technologists, software architects, product leaders, and financial executives focused on building the future of interconnected and intelligent financial services.

What is apidays NYC?

With over 80 sessions across two days, apidays NYC delves into critical topics including:

- Secure and compliant data exchange architectures
- Designing open APIs and robust developer platforms for financial use cases
- Strategies for AI governance, orchestration, and risk frameworks
- Building and monitoring API-driven Generative AI architectures
- Practical tooling and practices for platform engineering teams

This is an invaluable opportunity to understand the broader landscape in which open source financial technology operates.

May 15: Open Source in Finance Developer Day by FINOS

FINOS is proud to curate and host a dedicated full-day track specifically tailored for the engineers, architects, and technical contributors who are building and implementing open source solutions in the financial ecosystem. This track provides deep dives and practical sessions on key FINOS projects and relevant technical challenges:

- Empowering Data Trust: Practical data modeling and governance with FINOS Legend.
- TraderX: Exploring the architecture and collaboration behind the TraderX trading platform initiative.

- CDM in Action: Building regulatory-ready data models for complex trade lifecycle events using the Common Domain Model.
- FDC3 Deep Dive: Understanding Intents, achieving application interoperability, and practical implementation guides for the FDC3 standard.
- GenAI in Finance: Exploring open source orchestrators and governance frameworks for implementing Generative AI safely and effectively.
- Benchmarking Financial LLMs: Discussing approaches and results for evaluating Large Language Models for financial tasks.
- DTCC Hackathon Highlights: Showcasing innovative solutions developed during recent hackathons.
- FINOS Common Cloud Controls & CALM: Understanding compliance automation and controls for cloud adoption in finance.

This track is specifically designed to provide actionable insights and foster technical collaboration among those building the open foundation for composable, cloud-native, and AI-integrated financial platforms.

Complimentary Full Conference Pass for FINOS Members (Value $990)

This exclusive benefit grants FINOS Members full access to all apidays NYC sessions and networking opportunities on both May 14th and 15th, including the dedicated FINOS track.
