

A solid foundation for Fintech

Presented by: Alan Clark, SUSE CTO Office

We Live In Constant Change

, “... learned to be flexible and adaptable as every week has been different during the pandemic... there’s more chapters to be written... we’re not sure what the summers going to look like; how the economy is going to recover... There’s so many new dynamics that we are putting a premium on being really responsive, really agile, really flexible and we’re taking much shorter term horizon as we think about the business.”
